Proof That Google's Privacy Tool Is Inconsistent — It Claims "No Data About You" While Its AI Publicly Profiles You

The official "Results About You" dashboard shows:

"No results found about you."

According to Google's own interface, there is zero personal data about me in Search.

Screenshots included.

2. AI Overview Simultaneously Generates a Public Profile

At the same time, when searching for my nickname ("bitu79") or my real name, AI Overview automatically generates a detailed identity profile:

- linking my real name to my online alias
- referencing my company information
- summarizing my forum activity
- even generating an additional identity ("Kovács Dániel") and associating it with me

All of this appears publicly, at the top of Google Search.

3. The Core Issue

There is a clear contradiction:

- the privacy tool claims no data exists
- the AI Overview publicly displays synthesized personal data

This inconsistency prevents proper user control over personal information.

4. Why This Matters

This raises questions about:

- transparency
- user rights
- consistency between Google's privacy tools and AI systems
- GDPR compliance

This post documents the issue with screenshots and factual descriptions only.

Summary

- My personal data appears in AI Overview
- The privacy tool claims no such data exists
- This inconsistency blocks proper data management
- Personal data is displayed publicly without a functional way to control it

This is a data-protection issue, not abusive content.

Here is my other post with the screenshots showing the profiling:

This post does not contain hateful or abusive content. I am reporting a data-protection issue because Google Search displays my personal data to others. I have the right to describe how my own personal data is being processed. Removing such a report as "offensive" is unjustified [\[FireShot Capture 009 - bitu79 istókovics györgy ki - Google-keresés - www.google.com\]](#) [\[FireShot Capture 010 - bitu79 istókovics györgy ki - Google-keresés - www.google.com\]](#) \[FireShot Capture 011 - The AI-generate...

Did Google AI Studio silently change safety filtering today? Full responses now get erased instead of stopping generation – this breaks creative writing and RP 5
